SAINT JOSEPH'S COLLEGE CALUMET CENTER

Enrollments Open at St. Joseph's

Calumet Center Prepares to Welcome Large Freshman Class

The Calumet Region's only degree-granting college is preparing for a record freshman enrollment during the 1962-63 school year and currently is screening admissions applications from high school seniors.

"We look forward with great anticipation to the start of a new year at Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center and we anxiously await the arrival of our new freshmen," the Rev. Henry J. Martin, C.P.P.S., dean and director, asserted.

Father Martin said high school seniors in the two-state Calumet Region in Indiana and Illinois have shown a decidedly strong interest in attending Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center where they can complete the full four-year course for a degree in one of many areas of study.

Father Martin
"We are providing additional classrooms in our college building at 4721 Indianapolis Boulevard, East Chicago, and have completed arrangements to provide individual offices for each instructor. This will enable Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center to maintain the close student-faculty relationship which has enabled the college to provide the most effective counseling and guidance services," Father Martin said.

Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center listed 663 students on its roster during the school year just ended and anticipates continued growth in the year just ahead. The enrollment is nearly equally divided between men and women.

Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center conferred its first Bachelor of Arts Degree one year ago.

"We are currently processing applications for admission to Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center and we urge high school seniors to make application as early as possible to assure best class selection. An inquiry to the office of the registrar is all that is required for a student to receive complete details on enrollment procedures," Father Martin said.

STUDENT PARTICIPATION—Calumet Center hallways ring with the laughter of students who, working together, blend social and cultural objectives with academic achievement into a well-rounded liberal arts education.

They're Buzzin' Cousin

From the first dance in the fall to the University Prom in the spring, life on the Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center campus is rollicking with "where to go and things to do."

Classes have hardly begun when freshmen are initiated into the social life of the campus community.

"Kicking off this semester's schedule of student activities was a 'Get Acquainted' or Indian Summer Dance," records the student publication.

SHAVINGS.

And week after week the mounting number of student participation events are chronicled in SHAVINGS. Browsing through the files one quickly learns that Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center students don't lack for exciting and interesting things to do.

A complete list of these activities as recorded in the student newspaper would appear endless, but a grouping of college and club activities presents a well rounded activities calendar. Here's a partial list.

DANCING

Eddie Jay and his Orchestra played for the Indian Summer Dance which featured an Indian village motif . . . A Hallowe'en Costime Dance featured the music of the Johnny-Gene Quartet . . . The social committee of the Student Council sponsored a Christmas Dance in the college lounge . . . Students rejected a "girl ask boy" approach to a Valentine Dance for which the Easy Rocks jazz combo played . . . Each of three club sponsors went $12.90 in the red for the Mardi Gras Ball . . . Saint Joseph's College will handle financial arrangements for the University Ball conducted jointly with Purdue and Indiana University centers.

SPORTS

dinner and dancing . . . The Athletic Association has endorsed intramural football and is seeking gymnasium facilities for an intramural basketball program . . . A team of juniors and seniors defeated a frosh-soph team 6-0 in a heated gridiron battle (Continued on Page Four)

Wide Range of Student Activities

College Encourages Students To Expand Learning Through Doing

There is a wide variety of student activities at Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center, only four-year degree-granting college in the Calumet Region.

The limitations are established by the individual student. He can participate to the fullest, restrict his activities to a given field, or, if he chooses, he can concentrate entirely upon academic achievement.

Under the direction of the Rev. Joseph Smolar, C.P.P.S., dean of students, Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center, in the two years since it established its degree-granting program, has become a stimulating leader in the cultural and academic life in the communities from which its students have enrolled.

Father Smolar

One such example of a student activity is this campus newspaper, SHAVINGS, which is published weekly during the school year by a student staff. SHAVINGS reflects happenings at Saint Joseph's College as well as the thinking of its faculty and students.

"Our student organizations and student activities are growing along with Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center. As we see the need, additional programs are developed and projected into the college life," Father Smolar points out.

Depending upon the field of interest, students may seek membership in the Future Teachers Association, the Commerce Club or the Fine Arts Club, each a stimulating part of college life at Saint Joseph's Calumet Center. Others may desire to participate in one of the dramatic productions. Saint Joseph's College offers opportunities for those interested in choral work and is constantly developing new intramural sports programs.

most appealing extra-curricular activities on the Calumet Center campus. Class elections and Student Council activities provide educational opportunities that cannot be developed in the classroom.

Probably more interest is shown in the many spontaneous activities that develop at Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center than in those regularly scheduled events.

For instance, a semi-formal dance at Christmas time, a Halloween Party, or a freshman class hayride often generates more enthusiasm in a short period of time than any other event on the calendar during the same period.

Where college students assemble—even if it's only in the student lounge between classes—activities are bound to occur.

"Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center encourages its students to participate in these extra-curricular activities," Father Smolar asserts.

Study Courses

As the only four-year degree-granting college in the Calumet Region, Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center offers the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science Degree in a number of courses of study.

Major programs lead to the Bachelor's degree in Accounting, Economics, Education, English, Finance, History, Journalism-English, Journalism-Social Science, Management, Marketing, Mathematics, Philosophy, Politics, Sociology and Speech.

Minors are offered in each of the above, plus Art, French, German, Journalism, Psychology, Religion and Spanish.

Guidance Program

"The Guidance office is dedicated to serve the student. It seeks to quicken the college student to independent thought and prudent action," said Bernard A. Melevage, Director of Guidance in a recent talk.

Students may feel secure in that they have professional aid in the solution of their problems. Each student is assigned a counselor with whom he can consult concerning his course of study, academic program, social and cultural interests.

Enlarge Staff To Meet Growing Curriculum

At least six instructors with the doctor's degree will be added to the staff of Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center for the 1962-63 school year, according to the Rev. Henry J. Martin, C.P.P.S., dean and director.

"We are in the process of completing negotiations with some of the most capable instructors in their fields so that Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center can offer the best possible educational advantages to its students," Father Martin said.

This degree of excellence in the teaching staff of Saint Joseph's has stimulated growth of the college from a small extension center of a few years ago to the Calumet Region's only full four-year, degree-granting college. Degrees are conferred in a variety of courses of study.

Father Martin said Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center expects to have about 32 full-time instructors, many of them with doctorates, when the 1962-63 school year begins.

"Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center has expanded its curriculum to meet the growing demand for course offerings and to meet the needs of an increasing number of juniors and seniors," Father Martin said.

"We are proud of the teaching staff at the Calumet Center and have every intention of maintaining the high degree of excellence that has made Saint Joseph's College appealing to the student who seeks out the greatest educational opportunities," the college director said.

SCHOOL PAPER

Registration Procedure at St. Joe Told

Applications for admission to Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center may be obtained from the Office of the Registrar, 4721 Indianapolis Boulevard, East Chicago, Indiana.

The Registrar also requires that an official transcript of credits from high school be mailed directly to the Office of the Registrar.

The Rev. Clement G. Kern, C.P.S., assistant director and registrar, points out that classes at Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center start about two weeks earlier than at other colleges and that applications should be filed as early as possible. The 1962-63 term begins August 27.

"All credentials for enrollment to Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center should be received at least three weeks prior to the opening of the school term," Father Kern says. General requirements are:

1. Application form completely filled out.
2. Official transcript of credits from high school mailed directly to the Registrar.
3. Medical certificate supplied after application has been approved.
4. Acceptance by Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center is based upon satisfactory evidence of moral fitness and scholastic ability of the applicant to succeed.

Minimum scholastic requirements established by Saint Joseph's College neither guarantee nor exclude freshman candidates admission to Saint Joseph's College. The College reserves the right to select those best qualified to succeed at Saint Joseph's.

Conveniently located in the center of the great industrial Calumet Region, Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center is at 4721 Indianapolis Boulevard, East Chicago, Indiana, on one of the area's busiest arterials.

Easily accessible from surrounding communities in both Indiana and Illinois, the co-educational institute of higher learning is one of the few colleges to offer completely air-conditioned facilities.

Thus, even during the hot summer months, Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center is a busy place.

The Calumet Center building houses eleven classrooms, a library and reading room, general offices, administrative offices, two student lounges and book store. Arrangements have only recently been completed to permit expansion of the campus building for classrooms by acquiring adjacent office space to house faculty offices.

Because student facilities are grouped under one roof, a close fellowship among students as well as with faculty members has developed.

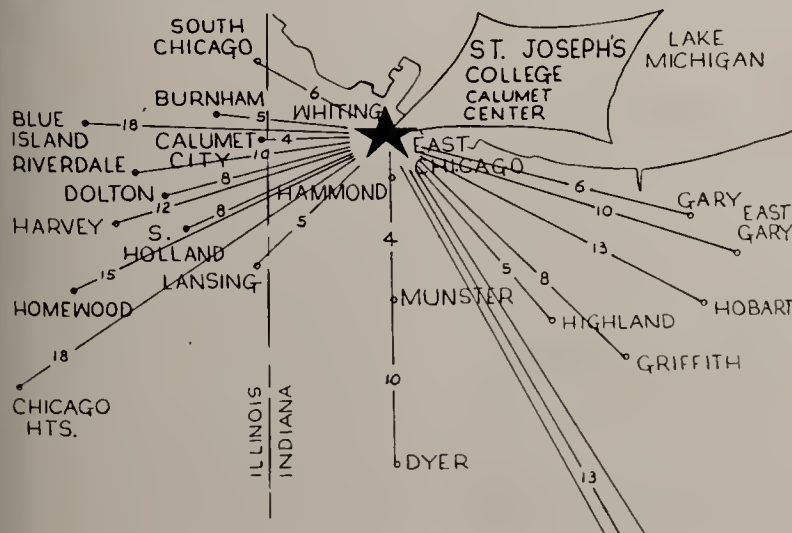

Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center is accessible by public transportation (both bus and rail) as well as being served by a network of highways traversing the Calumet Region in two states, Indiana and Illinois. Major highways leading toward Saint Joseph's College include the Indiana and Illinois Toll Roads, the Kennedy and Tri-State Expressways, the Chicago Skyway, and U. S. Routes 12, 20, 41 and 30.

The college sits in the midst of an area extending from east of Gary, Indiana, to the southern and western suburbs of Chicago and serves a population of more than one million. During the current school year, more than one-fourth of the students are from Illinois.

Student lounges on both the ground floor and the second story of the modern campus building enhance social opportunities for students attending Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center. Separate reading room and study facilities add to the scholastic flavor.

Tuition Costs Are Explained

For nearly all courses the tuition cost at Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center is $15 a credit hour, according to the Rev. Joseph A. C.P.P.S., business manager.

He explains that if a student carries five courses of three credit hours each (15 credit hours), the tuition cost per semester is only $225. However, Father Otte explains, some education courses and all Fine Arts courses carry a tuition rate of a credit hour.

Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center offers a variety of special payment plans as well as a Budget Plan which places a college education within the financial reach almost any high school senior.

"The college business office gladly explain each of these payment plans to students seeking admission to Saint Joseph's College Calumet Center and will work with the student in establishing the payment plan best suited to his financial capability," Father Otte explains.
